Module 2 – Video 1: The 4 Buyer Types in Dubai

Cold Calling Digital Programme – Workbook

Introduction

Before you ever pick up the phone, you need to answer one critical question: Who are you actually calling?

Most realtors fail at cold calling not because they don't have scripts—but because they talk to every buyer the same way.

Dubai doesn't work like that.

Dubai has four very clear buyer types, and each one listens, decides, and buys differently.

If you don't know who you're speaking to, even the best script will fall flat.

This workbook breaks down the 4 buyer types so you can adjust your language, positioning, and approach based on who picks up the phone.

The 4 Types of Property Buyers in Dubai

Type 1: Locals (Emiratis) – "E Type"

Profile:

- Have been in the Dubai property market for decades
- Have seen every cycle: booms, crashes, corrections, rebounds
- Extremely well connected with developers, agents, and investors
- Have already received hundreds of calls from agents
- Languages: Primarily Arabic and English

Important Reality:

If you are an expat calling them:

- You are not bringing new information
- You are not the first agent they're speaking to
- You cannot sound salesy or overly excited

When This Segment Makes Sense:

- Secondary market – Clear, specific opportunities with strong positioning (not persuasion)
- High-value properties where your expertise adds clear value

For most new agents, this is not the segment to start with.

Type 2: Business Owners (UAE / International) – "B Type"

Profile:

- Run businesses in Dubai or internationally
- Travel in and out of Dubai frequently
- Understand numbers, leverage, and opportunity
- Think in terms of ROI, timing, and scale

Decision Style:

They don't just buy emotionally. They buy logically.

They Respond Well To:

- Structured conversations
- Clear reasoning and data
- Smart, strategic questions

This Is One of the Best Segments For:

- Off-plan investments – 70% of your focus should be here
- Strategic secondary investments for portfolio expansion
- Long-term relationships that generate repeat business

Key Insight:

If you can ask good questions and show expertise, this segment will respect you very quickly.

Type 3: Expats Working in Dubai – "X Type"

Profile:

- Employed in Dubai (corporate jobs, mid-to-senior level)
- Live here full-time
- Love the lifestyle and want to call Dubai home

They Buy For:

- Stability – securing visa and residency
- Retirement planning – long-term security in Dubai
- Lifestyle upgrade – owning vs renting
- Long-term wealth building

They Respond Well To:

- Clear, step-by-step explanations
- Confidence and reassurance
- Payment plan flexibility
- Mortgage guidance

They Are Ideal For:

- Off-plan – especially payment plans that match salary cycles
- Ready properties for immediate move-in and end-use
- Long-term holding strategies (5–10 years)

This is a core segment for agents with 6 months to 4 years of experience.

Type 4: Tourists / Visiting Investors – "T Type"

Profile:

- Visit Dubai for leisure or business
- Fall in love with the city during their stay
- See Dubai as a global investment hub

They Usually Buy For:

- Investment opportunity – capital appreciation
- Short-term stays – Airbnb / holiday home potential
- Future plans – retirement or relocation to Dubai in 5–10 years

They Respond Well To:

- Big-picture thinking about Dubai's growth and global positioning
- Simple, confident explanations (they don't know the market deeply)
- Payment plan flexibility (often transferring funds internationally)

This Segment Requires:

- Strong follow-up – they go back home; you need to stay top-of-mind
- Clear framing of Dubai's investment story
- Patience – decision timelines can be longer due to distance

The Most Important Decision You Will Make

You don't need to sell to everyone.

A smart realtor decides:

- Which buyer type they want to focus on
- Which buyer type fits their experience level
- Which buyer type aligns with off-plan vs secondary positioning

Clarity here makes cold calling:

- Easier
- Calmer
- More effective

How to Use This in Your Cold Calls

Before you start your call block, ask yourself:

"Which buyer type am I targeting today?"

Then adjust:

- Your opening (language and tone)
- Your authority positioning (what expertise you lead with)
- Your questions (what matters to this buyer type)
- Your soft direction (how you propose next steps)

Quick Reference: Buyer Type Positioning

Buyer Type	Best Segments	What They Value	Your Positioning
Locals (E Type)	Secondary market, high-value properties	Trust, relationships, discretion	"I specialize in [specific area]. I work with select clients who value privacy and results."
Business Owners (B Type)	Off-plan investments, strategic secondary	ROI, logic, timing, leverage	"I help business owners structure property investments that align with cash flow and growth goals."
Expats (X Type)	Off-plan with payment plans, ready properties	Stability, clarity, step-by-step guidance	"I specialize in helping expats secure their first property in Dubai with clear payment plans and mortgage support."
Tourists / Visitors (T Type)	Off-plan investments, future relocation properties	Big-picture vision, simplicity, flexibility	"I help international investors position themselves in Dubai's growth story with flexible payment options."

2. Highlight the positioning statement from the table above that fits you
3. Adjust your opening script to match that buyer type's psychology
4. Practice out loud 10 times before your next call block

Remember: You don't need to master all 4 buyer types at once. Master 1–2, generate results, then expand.
